Introduction

Contents

This Public Information Brochure (PIB 23) is intended as a convenient reference to the bands used in VHF and UHF Mobile Services, showing details of channel frequencies and separations between the 'Base Transmit' and 'Mobile Transmit' channels.

The inclusion of a band plan, or a particular channel in any band plan, does not necessarily mean that the band or channel is available for licensing.

Disclaimer

The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (the Ministry) makes no warranty, express or implied, nor assumes any liability for any loss suffered, whether arising directly, or indirectly, due to the sole reliance on the accuracy or contents of this Public Information Brochure (PIB 23).

Changes

Radio Spectrum Management (RSM) may change, delete or add to or otherwise amend information contained in this document from time to time to reflect evolving policies. Changes to this document will be notified through the 'Radio Spectrum Management Business Update' e-newsletter that is emailed to those who subscribe. The changes are also notified in the News section on the RSM website www.rsm.govt.nz.

Clarification and Corrections

RSM will provide clarification of the information contained in this document when requested and would appreciate receiving suggestions for its improvement or advice relating to inaccuracies or ambiguities. Such matters may be emailed to radio.spectrum@mbie.govt.nz. Correspondence received will be acknowledged, investigated and appropriate action taken.

4.2 Telecommand & Telemetry Band

Telecommand: The use of telecommunications for the transmission of signals to initiate, modify, or terminate functions of equipment at a distance

Telemetry: The use of telecommunications for automatically indicating or recording measurements at a distance from the measuring instrument

ISM (Industrial, Scientific, and Medical) Bands are also available for Telecommand and Telemetry.

The Maximum permitted power is:

5.0 watts (e.i.r.p) for ISM, A, B, C, D, and E Bands.

0.5 watts (e.i.r.p) for the F Bands.
